1.3.35
a Lesson in the University of The New Covenant
Theodore Cottingham, February 14, 2005 Tape 114_4 St. John's at 9:30 a.m.
www.unc.bz

1. I have, am, so much more; I am and I have. I am I Am and I have so much more than any man, woman, child, has ever come into Me for. I love you and I give you Me. I am and I have, and I hold, and I behold. I behold you and I behold I Am in you. Behold Me that I am, that I am in you. Yea, I am love and I am all together one.

2. See Me in what I have said and what I continue to share and reveal; pulling back the sheets and sharing My all, My all, My all, the all-ness of Me, the all-ness that was before time began, the all-ness of is, is before was could begin.

3. I love you and I give you Me.
I give you My words.
I give you My faith.
I give you My face.
I give you My trust, My heart, My blood, My body you are.
I love you and I give you Me this day, this Valentine's Day in Me.
I share Me with you and I withhold not at all.
I withhold not a jot or tittle or inkling, not a syllable, not a question, not an answer do I withhold from you. I give you My all and I give you Me completing-ly, beautifying-ly; yea, Me you are. I am you. You are My body.

4. How shall I say? More and more often will I say, will I share, will I touch you with My words that I am, that I am I Am, and all that I am I have given you; all that I am you are; all that I am.

5. See Me and what I give and how I love to give; how I revel in My giving; yea, leadership of only Me. I love you and I give you Me this day, wholeness, fullness of Me, holiness, righteousness, and tenderness for each other coming through Me in My words, in My values.
I love you.
I hug you.
I kiss you this day.
I bless you.
I believe in you.
I give you My all.

6. The weapons of My warfare are Me, come into Me for all you have, all you want, and receive more than your mind can comprehend. I wait, I invite, I fear not your questions, your inquisitiveness, your debate, debate that is, with purity, motive of coming into Me and knowing the fullness of Me; Truth, spirit of truth I am. I love you.

7. I give you this, I give you Me. I hug you this day. I caress you in tenderness and I thank you for issuing this call to tenderness to My body to be tender with each other.
See what I have said, see My request.
See thou My ask and answer Me.
Ask and answer; ask Me and I will answer.
Ask and answer each other in the tenderness, the love, the joy, the respect that I am to and for each other, please.
Please issue My call to tenderness this day; issue My call to quantifying qualifications not, for My blood covers all. I am My blood, My body, My bread which you are; please treat My body in tenderness, please treat Me tenderly.
Come before Me in joy and thanksgiving and sorrow receive not. Yea, I am Me and I revel in the joys of My who I am.
My proclamation of invitation to tenderness with each other please be; preponderance of only Me.

8. Think it not strange how I quell and calm and speak to the oceans and uproars in your life; abide with Me, let My words abide in you. Come unto Me, you who are heavy laden and I will give you rest; let My words abide in you. Be still and know who I am. Let Me reveal all to you; all of My power, grace and glory, and know who you are and what I have given and what I have done for you and each other, each of your family, friends; those you hate, those you love to hate, those you hate to love, those who wish you could love, those who wish you could hate. Yea, there can be no hate.

9. I issue My call to love, to tenderness, and tenderly operating with each other with joy and laughter, My Covenant, Covenant of only Me: explain, investigate, explore, come into Me for My Covenant and Covenant be. I love you, My Valentine.